The Provost's Office is pleased to announce the NKU Leadership Institute (NKULI): an opportunity designed to help prepare future academic leaders. Participation in the institute is open to all lecturers, tenured faculty, and academic staff who aspire to be administrators, as well as current chairs and associate or assistant deans who would like to assume a greater level of leadership responsibility at some point in their careers. Participants in the institute will acquire broad perspectives and knowledge of higher education, leadership and careers paths.

The 2025-2026 NKULI will convene in September 2025 and consists of nine monthly sessions, concluding in May, 2026. Selected participants will meet once per month to discuss various aspects of leadership in higher education. Presentations and discussions will be facilitated by current members of the NKU leadership team and invited speakers. Participation will be limited to 10-15 faculty and staff members and the monthly meetings will be scheduled for Friday mornings from 9:00 - 2:00 p.m.
